

I do not think that banks or financial institutions should be exempt from complying with the no-call list. We deserve not to be bothered with unwanted sales call of any kind.